Hedging Strategist Joins John Stewart and Associates

John Stewart and Associates is pleased to welcome a new member to the AgMarket.Net® team, part of the company's farm division. The addition is the employment of hedging strategist Kolten Postin.

Kolten is an associated person out of the Windsor, Illinois office. The Illinois native has deep roots in agriculture as he grew up on a grain farm and livestock operation. He graduated with an associate degree in ag business and agronomy from Lake Land College and completed his bachelor's degree in agricultural economics from the University of Illinois.

He joins the company after previously serving as a commercial manager for ADM Milling where he covered specialty and starch mills. With ADM, Kolten gained exposure and knowledge with producer and commercial origination. He also has experience trading the southeast rail, gulf export and Illinois corn processing markets.

Kolten's all-around background with commercial entities makes him ideal for JSA.

"Our culture and value to our clients is driven by real world experience in managing risk across a broad spectrum of agriculture," says Brian Burke, president of John Stewart and Associates. "Kolten brings key experience to our group across the grains, oilseeds and milling spectrum."

Co-founders of AgMarket.Net say Kolten's ties to the farm and participation helping both the farmer and end-user makes him a well-suited addition.

"Kolten's experience in the grain industry as well as the family farm makes him well-rounded and a perfect fit for our team," says co-founder Matt Bennett. "After several years in the grain industry and working in various markets, Kolten will be a huge asset and resource for AgMarket.Net®."

John Stewart and Associates is a full-service commodity brokerage firm based out of St. Joseph, MO. AgMarket.Net® is the Farm Division of John Stewart and Associates; a forward-thinking agricultural marketing and consulting firm.
